

Rylstone Manor

Relax in the beautiful
Natural surroundings

Rylstone Manor
Rylstone Gardens – Shanklin – Isle of Wight – PO37 6RG

Telephone: 01983 862806
Fax: 01983 862806

We invite you to encapture the charm and elegance, here at Rylstone Manor Country House

Set in delightful parkland gardens amidst mature trees and winding paths, which lead you to the shingle and sandy beaches via the cliff steps.

The Manor was privately built I 1863 and remained a gentleman's residence until 1923. It is of Victorian proportions but with the influence of Gothic, Tudor and Georgian periods.

These styles blend into one, making the Manor unique, not only in its exterior, but also within.

Arrive to be shown to one of our well appointed selection of 9 en-suite rooms each named after an English tree.

Take a moment t enjoy the peaceful outlook offered from all aspects. Sea glimpses, lawns, well tendered flower beds and tall majestic trees give the feeling of tranquillity, then settle in with tea, in the drawing room or garden.

Make the Rylstone experience a manor you can get accustomed to, because a stay makes a night into an occasion

For the more energetic a visit to the famous Chine is a must, a ravine of natural beauty which features rare plants, a stunning waterfall, and woodland walks that take you from the Village to the shore and from there the coastal walk is the next natural step.

Here in Shanklin Riding, Golf, Fishing, Tennis and Bowls are only a short distance by car, and the details are available at the Reception desk.

The picturesque old thatched village of Shanklin may be reached through the gardens and boasts an abundance of gift and tea shops.

The magic of the Island, and the peace and tranquillity of Rylstone entwine into one, making a visit you will always remember

Our fine cuisine is served in the intimate atmosphere of the candlelit dining room, where a variable choice is changed daily and prepared by the resident owner chefs.

We have a small but attractive lounge for aperitifs or an after dinner brandy.

There is also a comprehensive wine list offering wines from the Island to Australia.

The Island has been called The Garden of England,
A title by which it has been referred to as long Ago as 1781

Islands have always exercised a peculiar fascination over us Englishmen, perhaps because accustomed as we are to a sense of security induced by a surrounding sea, we never feel more comfortable when the sea is on all sides at a measurable distance.

A quote of a comical nature of yesteryear, "The narrow streets of the Island seem as foreign in 1940 to those who come from their mansions and castles"

The Island in fact presents every variety of scenery from richly wooded lanes, tiny Island villages bowered in greenery, high sweeping downs to bold coast scenery, with chalk cliffs rising 200ft above a sea often grand in the extreme

A few comments from the guest book.

It was good in 1935 now its superb.

Lovely, lovely setting, gorgeous décor / antiques etc.,
Friendly, quiet and relaxing.

I wanted beautiful scenery, first class service, a sumptuous hotel and be totally stress free and I found it all at the Rylstone Manor.